

Nick Lepetsos
President
First American State Bank

As President of First American State Bank, Nick Lepetsos directs the institution's daily operations including capital formation, lending, asset/liability management, liquidity planning, and information technology. He brings more than 17 years of experience in the financial service industry to his position.

Extensive experience in real estate lending for both residential and commercial projects attracted Lepetsos to join First American State Bank as Vice President in 2002. Three years later, he was named President of the institution.

Lepetsos began his commercial banking career with a local bank holding company, where he spent nine years, before moving into the private equity and investment venture capital arena.

He serves as the corporate committee co-chair of the First American State Bank Fitness Festival benefiting the Cherry Creek School District Community Asset Project. He also serves on the committee supporting fundraising events for Kempe Children's Foundation.

Lepetsos earned his Master's of Business Administration degree from the University of Colorado in 1999, and a Bachelor's of Science degree in Economics from Arizona State University's W. P. Carey School of Business. Lepetsos is also a graduate of the Graduate School of Banking in Madison, Wisconsin.

He resides in Centennial, Colorado with his wife and their two children.
